DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4, and 6-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tamura (U.S. Patent 5,609,953). Regarding Claims 1, 2, and 6, Tamura shows the general process steps of molding plastic bodies including a foaming or blowing agent, allowing for a subsequent expansion step, wherein prior to the injection of plastic material, an insert is held within the mold cavity by removable pins (First embodiment).

Regarding Claims 3 and 4, Tamura shows the process as claimed as discussed in the rejection of Claim 1 above, including a method using polyolefin molding material and various additives (Third embodiment).

Regarding Claims 7-11, Tamura shows that it is known to have an apparatus for manufacturing molded plastic bodies, including a mold cavity that allows for expansion and includes removable pins that hold an insert in the mold cavity (Figures 2-5).

Regarding Claims 12 and 13, Tamura shows the apparatus as claimed as discussed in the rejection of Claim 7 above, including a method using polyolefin molding material and various additives (Third embodiment).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5 and 14-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tamura.

Regarding Claims 5 and 14, Tamura shows the process as claimed as discussed in the rejection of the respective independent claims, however Tamura does not particularly show the claimed volume percentages. However, where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, it is not inventive to discover the optimum or workable ranges by routine experimentation (See MPEP 2144.05 (II)(A)). Therefore, it would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use Tamura's process and apparatus in order to allow for proper expansion of the product that is desired by the consumer.

Regarding Claims 15-16, Tamura shows the process as claimed as discussed in the rejection of the respective independent claims, however he does not the claimed intended use. However, a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. It is maintained that with cavity modifications for different articles, Tamura's process and apparatus would be able to produce articles such as those claimed.
